DIRECTORATE OF DISTANCE EDUCATION

visit : www.svudde.org

The Directorate of Distance Education was started in 1972 as the Institute of Correspondence Courses to cater to the needs of students who could not pursue formal college education. These courses provide an opportunity to the students who discontinue education at an early stage to pursue higher studies because of lack of aptitude and motivation or for want of economic wherewithal. Individuals who look upon education as a life-time activity and like to enhance their knowledge in an existing discipline of study or acquire proficiency in a new area may also benefit from the courses. Distance Education is an attempt to diversify and proliferate academic beneficence far beyond the close confines of a classroom and to make it available to all those who aspire for higher learning. It has a special relevance in an egalitarian society, in so far as it does not have the "elitist bias" to education which is beyond the reach of many. Another advantage of such a programme is that it goes beyond the confines of University Jurisdiction.

The Institute of Correspondence Course was upgraded as the Directorate of Distance Education in 1994 as per the UGC norms.

ORIENTAL RESEARCH INSTITUTE

e-mail : orientalresearchinstitute@yahoo.co.in Sri Venkateswara Oriental Research Institute was started in July, 1939 by the Management of Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams with a view that it should be a first-rate Research and Training Centre with appropriate divisions for the study of Sanskrit and other languages of the Hindu religion and Philosophy and of Hindu culture generally. Under the Management of Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams, the Oriental Research Institute published sixteen volumes of the Oriental Journal and about sixty-four books in Sanskrit (20), English (8), Telugu (19) Tamil (17) under three series named Sri Venkateswara Oriental Series, Sri Venkateswara Oriental Institute Studies and Sri Visistadvaita Sampradaya Granthamala, covering the areas of Kosa, Dharma sastra, Vyakarana, Scientific literature like Mathematics, Saiva, Vaikhmalala and Pancaratra Agamas, Vedanta, Kavya, Stotra and Psychology. The Bharatakosa by M.R. Kavi and the History of Sanskrit Literature by M. Krishnamachariar Published from this Institute have become indispensable basic tools of research in Sanskrit Literate and literacy criticism. The Tenth All India Oriental Conference in 1940 and the Fourth Session of Sanskrit Vishva Parishat in 1955 were held in Tirupati under the auspices of the Institute. When the Sri Venkateswara University was established, for the encouragement of higher education and research in all branches of learning particularly on Oriental learning, Sanskrit, Ancient Indian Arts and Culture, Architecture and Fine Arts, Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams handed over the Institute on the 1st November 1956, with a view to promote its activities in a broader perspective with well qualified research staff. With limited resources and meagre staff the Institute continued to function with the same zeal and aspirations with which it was started and could publish 43 volumes of Oriental Journal and 30 books in English (3), Sanskrit (15), Telugu (10) and two volumes of the Descriptive catalogue. A Seminar on Andhra's contribution to Indian Culture was held in March 1972 and a National Seminar on the eve of Centenary Celebration of Bhagavan Ramana Maharshi was conducted on 20-08-1997.

In 1979, the Institute moved to its own new building. It was named "Tiruppan Alvar Bhavan" in sacred memory of Saint Tiruppan alvar who sang in praise of Sri Vishnu in the ninth century A.D. The Library of the Institute contains 17,038 manuscripts and 43,000 printed books. Each book in the library is purchased selectively on consideration of its utility in the research activities of the Institute covering all the fields of Indian tradition. There is a binding section to repair damaged books. But many of the books in the old collection are irreparable, as the paper became very brittle and got damaged. So the Library is run on closed access system. All possible facilities are provided for the bonafide research scholars and learned public to consult the books in the Reading Room.

DIRECTORATE OF COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Community Development is an issue of global concern. It is an integral part for the development of any Nation. Although the Universities and colleges in India are actively involved in modes of teaching and research activities, they have their own limitations to contribute their research findings for the development of the communities. Now, it is more important than ever, that the Universities should have their strategies in contributing to the development of the community in their own possible ways. The Universities have an access to understand the world wide information technology and donor system which can be linked to the rural community to the opportunities that are available globally. This will pave a way to tap the funds in getting a project for the progress of poor and disadvantaged. The University co-ordinates the projects, plays a mediator and motivator role, interprets government structures, donor intentions and procedures, thus empowering the community to access these resources. The University also facilitates needs assessment, planning, training, report writing, account keeping and assists conflict management. Keeping these in view, the above centre has been opened to make S.V. University to take part actively in the activities of Community Development. Apart from the Director, the Advisory Committee and the Task Force Committee have also been constituted. They are headed by the Vice-Chancellor to execute and to monitor the Community Development Programmes.
