10.7 School of Design (SoD)

The genesis of design education in India was laid in the early sixties when Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru, the first Prime Minister invited eminent designers, Charles and Ray Eames to prepare a report on the kind of design education which India should have as a developing country. The seeds of design were thus sown and this report nucleated the study of design as a discipline to be nurtured as a creative work, which has a focus on form as well as, function. Today, design is an integral part of our growing society and day to day life as well.

Doon University has started imparting design education on the pattern of leading design institutes through its School of Design from the academic session 2015-16, making professional design education available, at an affordable cost. The infrastructure and teaching is at par with other National Institutes imparting design education in the country through experienced design faculty.

The School of Design offers a four year Bachelor in Design program consisting of eight semesters. The teaching pedagogy lays emphasis on creative thinking and a critical analysis of the product, and has hands - on approach to shape it. The programme focuses on nurturing the creative aptitudes in each student and develop their ability to evolve in the process of problem solving. Emphasis is given to design education in relation to our eco - system and society that we live in as well as the environment, which we need to preserve. Aim is to turn out design graduates, who are 'Industry ready' and have the necessary skills to be absorbed in different work arenas. Participation of industry professionals and solving industrial problems in the real work situation is the essence of design education at the School of Design.

After a common year long foundation program, students will pursue a three year specialisation in one of the proposed courses such as Product Design, Graphic Design and Animation Design. The curricula of specialisation courses are developed on the basis of the market needs. The specialisation will be offered in consultation with the student after an evaluation of performance and aptitude in foundation year.

10.9 School of Physical Sciences (SoPS)

The School of Physical Science with its four departments: Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics and Computer Science was established in 2015. The School is an active beehive of high quality teaching programmes and competent faculty members with various research backgrounds that cater to the ever challenging needs of teaching and technical excellence in significant areas of Physical Sciences with globally benchmarked curricula.

The School offers Integrated Masters programme in Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics and Computer Science and Masters programmes in Physics and Mathematics. The curricula of the Integrated programmes in these subjects are based on UGC's Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) and provides a broad background as well as in-depth study of the subject and related areas. The curriculum is divided mainly into three categories: Core Courses, Discipline Specific Elective (DSE) Courses and Generic Elective (GE) Courses. Core courses are rigorous in-depth courses that build on the foundation and develop critical thinking and problem solving skills. Since the subjects involve a lot of experimental work therefore, substantial laboratory work is an integral part of almost all type of courses.

The two years Masters Programme in Physics with specialization in Optoelectronics is a unique programme being offered in collaboration with the Instruments Research & Development Establishment (IRDE), a branch of Defense Research & Development Organization (DRDO). In its first year of establishment, the department of Physics organized a National Seminar on Light and Light based Technology (SLT-2016) in collaboration with IRDE, which was a great success.

Seminar SLT-2016 held by the Department of Physics in collaboration with IRDE, Dehradun on February, 2016.

Various initiatives are taken by the SoPS for the development of the students by encouraging them to participate in extension activities, such as science workshops, science club, research training programs etc. In order to ensure the exposure of students to the recent developments in scientific research, various seminars, quizzes and workshops on science and technology are organized by Doon Science Club, a joint initiative of Department of Chemistry and Physics. The faculty is also very active in extension activities and in reaching out to students.

Research in Chemistry

Research activities form the core of any Ph.D. program. Creative and productive enquiry is the basis of underlying research work. Ph.D. program in Chemistry includes a rigorous course work, development of project proposals, research and literature seminars, in-depth dissertation research under the supervision of a research advisor, and a public thesis defense.

At present following broad areas are being offered for research in chemistry: Catalysis, Chemistry of Nanomaterials, Applications of Nanomaterials in water remediation and drug delivery, Coordination Chemistry, Green Chemistry, Structural Chemistry and Crystallography, Supramolecular Chemistry

Ph.D. Programme in Chemistry: The Department is starting its Ph.D. programme from the session 2016-2017. Under this programme, the department will offer Ph.D. degree to the students with the essential qualifications and aims to establish the state-of-the art experimental facilities that will allow to venture into emergent interdisciplinary areas like nanoscience and nanotechnology, catalysis, organic syntheses, coordination chemistry, drug delivery systems, separation science, and water remediation.

Research in Physics

The department aims to establish the state-of-the art experimental and computational facilities that will allow to venture into emergent interdisciplinary areas like nanoscience and nanotechnology, condensed matter physics, computational materials science, computational physics, theoretical condensed matter physics and energy harvesting technology. The faculties of the department are engaged in the research through the international collaborations taking up the emerging challenges of scientific research. The department offers a Ph. D. programme every year.

10.10 Centre for Public Policy (CPP)

The Centre for Public Policy (CPP) has been established through an endowment provided by the National Thermal Power Corporation (NTPC) in 2006. It is anchored in the School of Social Sciences but acts as an autonomous Centre, carrying out its various activities as per the decisions taken by various Committees constituted for discharging its mandate.

The Centre aims to promote and nurture research and make serious efforts in the domain of public policy, with special reference to the mountainous regions like Uttarakhand. With this end in focus it reaches out to establish an on-going dialogue with all researchers and research projects that are in progress in Uttarakhand - in Universities, Colleges and various institutions of excellence, both past and present.

The Centre for Public Policy has hitherto been active in preparatory actions related to sustainable development and Climate Change. The Centre on its part not only provided an anchor role to the Nodal Officer but also helped in conducting various consultations with departments, including meetings at the highest levels. The role played by the Centre, the School and the University now forms an important part of the Project on Safer and Sustainable Uttarakhand.

With a view to promote research in identified interdisciplinary areas and associated related issues the Centre shall offer research scholarship, fellowship/assistantship to the Masters, Ph.D. students and eminent scholars.
